All image/video files should be saved in a secure location.

Guide to Evidence Preservation

Your immediate instinct may be to want all images removed immediately, but it is important for an investigation or civil action that all evidence is preserved.

Take screenshots of everything, include URLs, usernames and timestamps, when possible. Use our evidence preservation log, found here, for documentation.

Avoid communication with the perpetrator. Communication can lead to evidence being removed before preservation or the escalation of threats. If you do communicate with the perpetrator, be sure to screenshot all conversations.
